

Patient Consent for Health Myself shared email address

In partnership with a company called Health Myself we have established a secure and private area on the Internet called a “portal” which will allow you to book appointments online with the clinic. There is no charge for using the portal and we believe you will find it much more convenient than the telephone.

What you will be able to do:

- Book or change appointments on-line for you and/or your dependents

What we will be able to do:

- Remind you of your upcoming appointment with our office
- Let you know if your appointment has been changed

We recommend that everybody 16 years of age or older have a unique email address.

We understand that in some instances this may not be practical and require signed consent from all parties involved to share an email address. By signing the consent below you acknowledge that any information or appointments booked on the portal using a joint email address may be viewed or accessed by individuals using the same email address.

Patient acknowledgement and agreement
